SAFE SEX AND PLEASURE WORKSHOP

Participant's Participant's

This is a big old thank you to FRIDA for throwing the cash money our way to produce this. Thank you to Rebecca Rwakabukoza for your great editing skills and Jeannine Adams for graphic designing this so hard that we saw unicorns and stars. Thank you to Alexis Teyie for the excellent infographics and to our beautiful model, Thabile for being a part of this journey. Thank you Abigail Phiri and Tshego Senne for the words, wisdom and all the information.

We stay grateful. Now lets learn.

What are your ideas of consent?

CONSENT

Section 1

Let us unpack a few ideas and examples of what your understanding of consent involves.

CONSENT 101

Consent is mandatory. Period. Any sexual acts in the absence of consent is rape.

Consent is not just about sex

Consent is about respecting people's autonomy, bodily integrity, and right to pleasure.

Consent is an active choice

Consent must be made consciously and given vocally and enthusiastically. Minors or people under the influence cannot give consent.

Consent is given freely

Consent is based on equal power.

Consent is not possible if coercion is present.

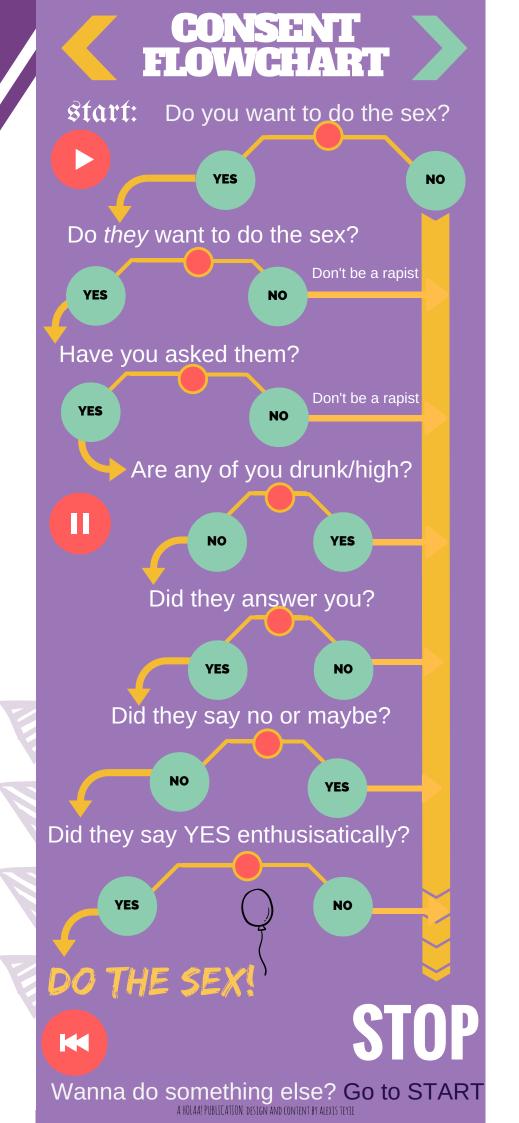

Consent is ongoing

Consent is both continuous and specific. Consenting to one act doesn't mean consenting to everything.

Consent can be withdrawn at any time.

TRY: Are you OK with this? Do you like it when I... Does this feel good? I think it's hot when...

Take down a few ideas below, that were mentioned in the group discussion, surrounding what the ideas of consent involve.

STO3 and STI3 to watch out for Section 2

Before you begin with this section, let us discuss what you consider safe sex to be.

Then move into small groups and fill in each of the missing content and infographic labels throughout the section.

With very little outwardly visible symptoms in the early stages of infection, Chlamydia commonly goes untreated and transferred from one partner to another unknowingly.

As a bacterial disease, the transmission occurs even without penetration. If left untreated it causes pelvic inflammatory disease (PID) that damages the uterus, cervix and ovaries leading to infertility.

(INTERNAL) SYMPTOMS INCLUDE:

Chlamydia is, however, treatable with oral antibiotics as prescribed by healthcare professionals.

There are over 100 varieties of HPV and focus is mostly placed on the strains that affect genitals, mouth and throat.

HPV is a viral infection that is passed between people through skin-to-skin contact.

WSW, in particular, are at risk of contracting and transferring HPV through unprotected cunnilingus, anilingus, tribadism as well as the immediate sharing of toys without disinfecting and using protection.

There is no known treatment for HPV in its earlier stages.

HPV can cause cervical cancer and other cancers of the genitals, head, neck, and throat.

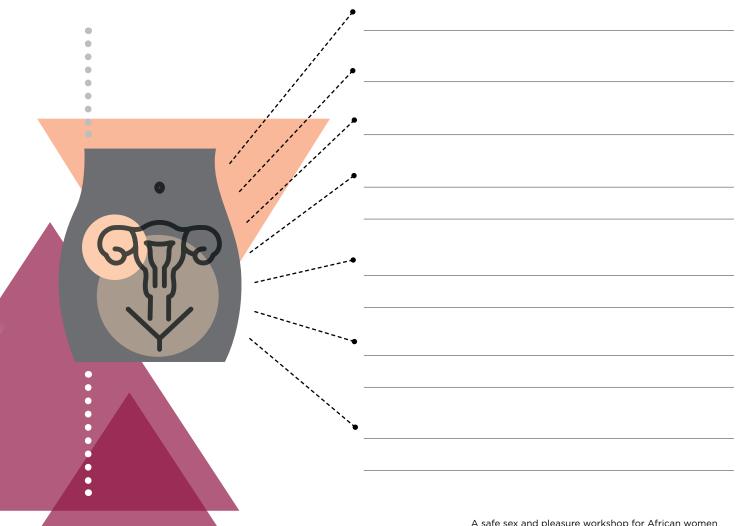

Gonorrhoea is a bacterial infection that likes to live in the warm and moist areas of the body. This includes the urethra; eyes; throat; vagina; anus; and female reproductive tract (fallopian tubes, cervix, and uterus).

WSW are at risk of contracting and transferring Gonorrhoea through unprotected cunnilingus, anilingus, tribadism, as well as the immediate sharing of toys without disinfecting and using protection.

Symptoms of Gonorrhoea in a number of women are not always visible. When they are, they may come across as mild yeast or urinary infections, making it all the more difficult to identify.

Similar to Chlamydia, severe cases of untreated Gonorrhoea cause PID and ultimately lead to damage of the uterus, cervix and ovaries, leading to infertility.

SYMPTOMS INCLUDE:

Herpes is an outbreak of sores or blisters caused by the lifelong herpes simplex virus.

You can get infected through direct contact with body fluids (mostly saliva and vaginal secretions) or lesions of an infected individual categorized by the particular body part that is infected.

Oral herpes sometimes show up as cold sores and blisters around the mouth and can be transmitted through sharing utensils, lip balm, kissing and oral sex/cunnilingus (including anilingus).

Genital herpes show up as similar sores and blisters around your sexy bits transmitted through tribadism, as well as the immediate sharing of toys without disinfecting and using protection.

The lack of sufficient awareness on the vulnerability of WSW leads to a much larger cycle of stigmatization both within social circles and with health care practitioners, allowing numerous cases to go unheard/unreported and ultimately, silenced and assumed non-existent.

WSW sexual acts are much more than the traditional idea of sexual intercourse. A study by Masters and Johnson 1979 on lesbian sexual practices (extended to include WSW) saw these sexual encounters as more full-body inclusive, rather than genital-focused.

TIPS & Licks

Safe sex for Women who have sex with Women

It is important to be open and honest with your partner(s) about any health concerns and the use of safer sex methods.

Regular STI screenings, vaginal health practices and general body awareness can keep you in the know and alert of any changes with enough time to seek treatment, as well as take the necessary steps to preventing transmission.

What are some of the ways you have sex?

In the learner activity below, match each of the following tricks to their corresponding protective tips.

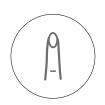

1. Safer Tribadism

2. Safer Fingering

Including Anal Pleasure

3. Safer Oral Sex

Including Anilingus

4. Safer Sex Toy Use

lip

- Use latex gloves and finger cots, especially if you have a cut or sore on your hands.
- Use plenty of lube for fingering or fisting, especially for the anus to avoid abrasion.
- Wash your hands before and after sex.
- Keeping fingernails short and clean.
- Use a new condom every time sex toys are shared, or when switching partners.
- Wash sex toys before and after use and between partners.
- Apply plenty a lot of lube.
- Use sex toys carefully to prevent drawing blood.
- Avoid scissoring (vagina-to-vagina contact) if you or your partner is menstruating.
- Use a dental dam, or cling wrap. In absence of either, you may or even wearing a thong as a protective barrier.
- Use a dental dam, cling wrap, or a condom cut open and placed between the vagina/anus and mouth.
- Avoid oral sex if you or your partner have any cuts or sores in or around the mouth, or if the receiving partner is menstruating.

ype	s of sex toys and how to clean them:

- Silicone, glass, stainless steel, or wood (motorized): Use mild soap and a damp cloth to wipe the toy clean.
- Silicone, Pyrex, stainless steel, or stone (not motorized): If you want to really clean it, place it in boiling water for eight to 10 minutes, or run it through the dishwasher without soap.
- Cyberskin: Use only a little soap and warm water to clean it. Too much sudsing can damage the sensitive material.
- Hard plastic, elastomer, thermoplastic elastomer (TPR), or jelly rubber: These porous materials can still contain bacteria and STDs after washing with soap and water. Use a condom if you're going to share with a partner.

Tips for D.I.Ysex toys

When choosing something to use as a sex toy you need to think of a few things:

- Can it transmit bacteria or cause infection?
- Can it break off?
- Will it cause injury?

Choose objects that are smooth, durable, and are comfortable for you to hold or manipulate.

Make sure that you cover your chosen object with a condom.

Once you use a food stuff as a sex toy, do not eat it.

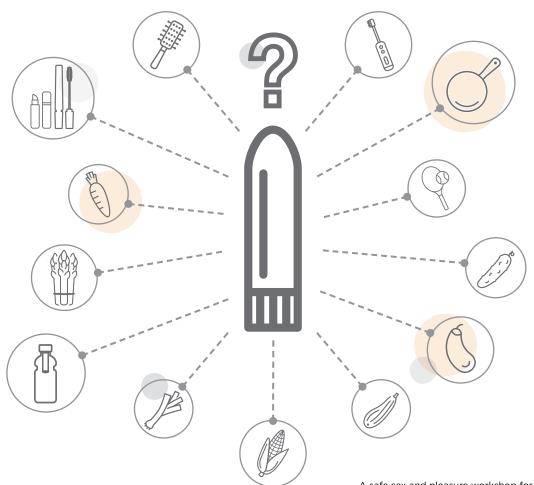

Note: If you are planning on using your D.I.Y dildo for anal stimulation, it must have a flared base.

Most of the items that you might pick up to use as a makeshift dildo are porous (have a lot of tiny tiny holes). This includes wood, rubber and even fruits or vegetables, which means you cannot completely kill all the bacteria. This is where the condom comes in.

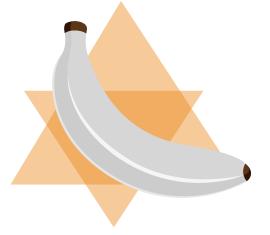

A list of objects that can be used as dildos:

As the facilitator works through the list, write out the name of the object alongside the icon in the below infographic.

MB: do not use:

DO NOT use a peeled banana, or a banana in general. A banana is a bad choice for a dildo because it gets soft and this is not a good look. DO NOT use anything that creates suction inside e.g. an empty bottle.

KEY TIPS:

The vibration from a phone can be a semi vibrator. Just make sure you clean it first. And try not to get it too wet. If you can cover it in a condom.

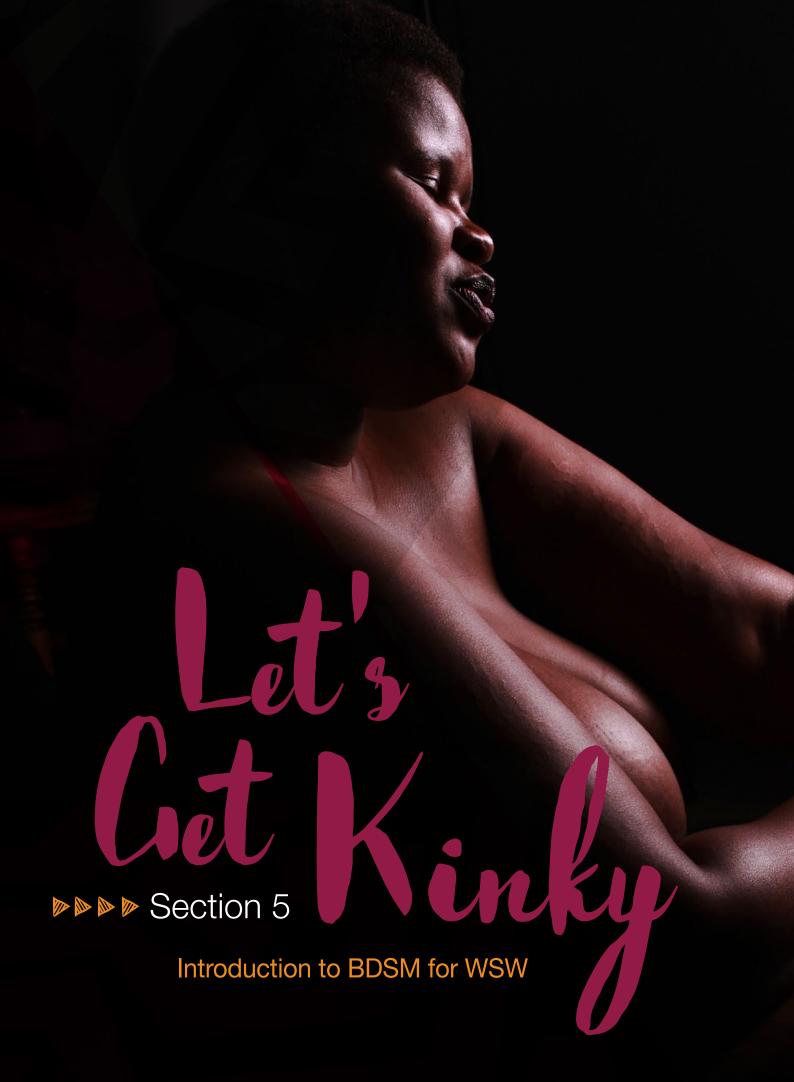

- Cover any and all objects used with a condom
- No objects with sharp edges or pointy bits
- Do not use anything that could possibly shatter, splinter, or break off inside you
- Objects with electrical currents are for outside use only
- Do not use anything that belongs to or that you share with another person
- Do not use electric objects in the tub or shower

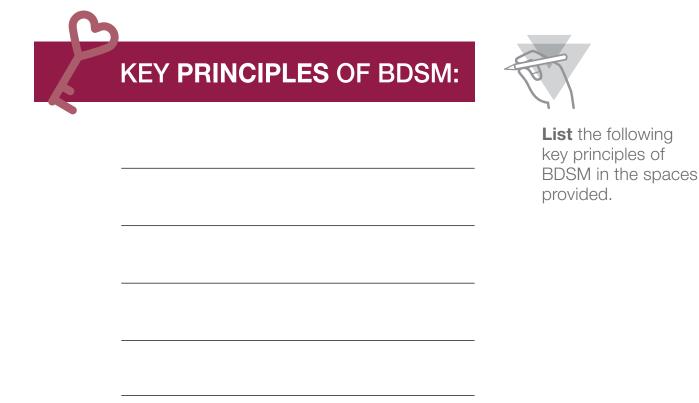

Bondage,
Discipline/Dominance,
Sadism/Submission and Masochism.

Some of the activities involved in kink are probably things most people have done with sexual partners to an extent, without actually calling it kink or BDSM.

AT THE VERY CORE OF BDSM AND KINK IS EXPLICIT CONSENT.

It is important for kinksters to practice full disclosure of fetishes, history as well as any medical concerns.

Remember: typical gender-roles and sexuality labels do not apply to BDSM.

▶ BDSM IS MORE ABOUT WHAT GETS YOU OFF, WITHOUT SHAME OR JUDGMENT.

Fill in the missing key words throughout the section. You will also get into pairs, think of both Bondage and Discipline examples and note them down.

2. Dominance and Submission

Dominance and Submission is also known as
It is theto a certain degree, where the sub will yield a certain amount of authority and control over to the Dominant sexually, erotically and sometimes lifestyle wise.
Not every D/s arrangement will involve sex or play, which is why it's important to know your kinks and find a dynamic that is suitable for you. The Dominant will exercise given control over the sub within the agreed upon
This sort of arrangement can be for a shorter term, all the way up to a long-term Mistress/Master and slave arrangement where the Mistress/Master has earned full control over their slave(s).
D/s arrangements do not necessarily represent a person's outward demeanour, as one can be submissive while dominant in their professional and family life.
It's all about exploring
3. Sadomasochism
A sadist is one who finds pleasure in, while a masochist finds pleasure in
All within mutually agreed upon boundaries.
As the more physical extension to a D/s arrangement, can be purely for the sensation of giving and receiving pain as pleasure, an arrangement based on the use of pain to enhance pleasure within an erotic context .
The build-up and release of adrenalin and endorphins from an S and M 'play session' increases the state of euphoria and can be described as a "High" or sub/bottom-space for the receiving partner and Top/Dom-space for the giving partner.
As simple as the slight pain of your partner's bite on your neck that you ended up finding so enjoyable, S and M can also include spanking your partner's bare bottom during sex. At its most advanced level, S and M includes the use of and other implements to exert pain .
4. Play sessions or Scenes
A play session is a period that is mutually agreed upon by all participating people, to explore their
It is often thought of as a form of entering a different realm entirely, where you assume your desired role and partake in the activities involved.
Because of the fantasy nature of a play session, it can be easy for Tops or Dominants to get carried away, which is why they are required to adhere strictly to the set within their arrangements .

Fill in the missing key words in the content below.

Elements that may be involved in isolation or combinations of a play session:

7	•		_ (such as feet and heels, stockings and latex bodysuits)

SAFETY, SANITY AND CONSENT IS THE PINNACLE OF BDSM.

This means that:

- Every participant be aware and consent to the play.
- Ensure that safety measures are taken, such as keeping a fully stocked first aid and aftercare kit nearby before a play session begins.

KEY TIPS:

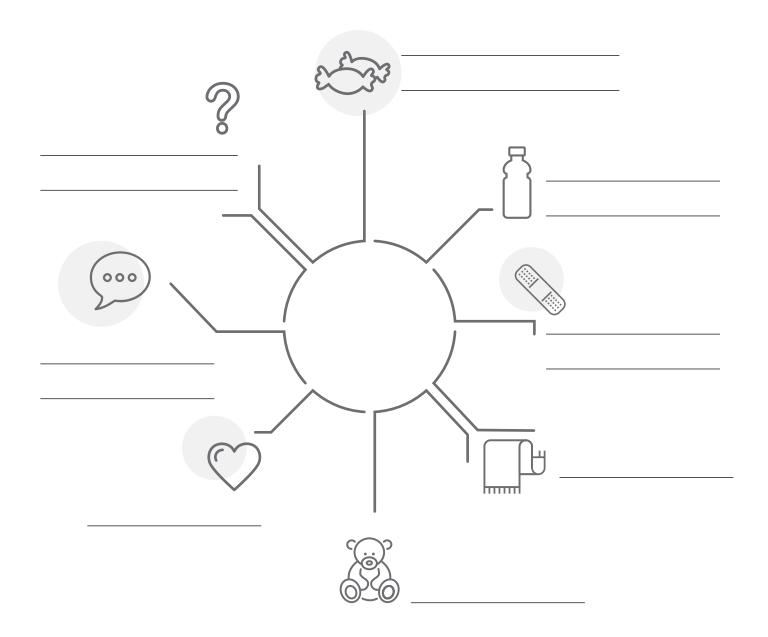

A fun activity would be for the Dominant to establish a safety ritual that requires the submissive to check whether all toys, tools and kits are clean and within reach in the case of an emergency like tying the rope too tight.

Numerous bottoms and submissives note a period of 'subspace', where they feel completely euphoric in their state of submission during a play session. Dominants can also feel the same sensations from the power dynamics of the play.

5. Aftercare

The cuddles, the pillow talk and the smoke break that comes often after sexy time is the aftercare of a play session, used to tend to the decline from subspace or the end of a session.

Aftercare needs vary from person to person, and include:

Find out what your person needs!

NOTE: It is important to know or have had a list of what your partner may need as aftercare as most submissives and bottoms find it hard to communicate clearly whilst in or declining from subspace.
